CHINMAYA MISSION HOUSTON (CMH) POLICIES

CHILDREN & YOUTH SAFETY, CARE AND CUSTODY POLICY:

It is Chinmaya Mission Houston's (CMH) policy and requirement of participation by children under 18 in any of CMH activities that at least one parent (or a designated person identified to CMH as such) who is legally responsible as guardian of the child be present for the entire duration of such activity, preferably attending adult satsanga-s.

At all times, parents are responsible for the safety, custody, and care of their children both before and after the classes as well as any other activities. Parents or their designated supervising adults are also responsible for coordination of pick-up, drop off, safety, custody, and care of the children and youth for the Bala Vihar classes and other activities. CMH is not responsible or liable for any unattended or non-supervised children, and may take any action, including barring participation in future activities by such children.

This policy applies equally to all other patrons or guests and their children as well. Participation in any of CMH sponsored activities is expressly conditioned on acceptance and compliance with above conditions.

VIDEO TAPING, AUDIO TAPING & PHOTOGRAPHING POLICY:

Chinmaya Mission Houston has designated and authorized individuals to perform video taping, audio taping, and photography at all CMH activities—Bala Vihar classes, satsanga-s, festivals, stage shows, cultural and religious events, fundraisers, and all other regular/special programs. No one other than the designated and authorized representatives shall perform these tasks without prior written approval from the CMH Board.

CMH retains all rights in the creative works produced as a result of such activities and may capture and archive them in various media (video, audio, photos, and other forms of digital storage such as CDs, DVDs etc.) for later use, such as brochures, websites, books, pamphlets, classroom instructions, slideshows, presentations, newsletters, newspaper articles, magazines, radio broadcast, lectures, fundraisers, and for highlighting of events, programs, discourses, and accomplishments, consistent with its charter and goals.

No compensation whatsoever, either monetary or other forms, shall be provided for involvement, participation, or being present in these media. This policy applies equally to all other patrons or guests as well. Participation in any of CMH sponsored activities is expressly conditioned on acceptance of above conditions.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF CMH POLICIES

We, including spouse and children/youth, have read and understood CMH's policy on:

- Children & Youth Safety, Care and Custody Policy
- Video Taping, Audio Taping, and Photographing Policy

As parents and guardians of our children who wish to participate in CMH activities, we fully understand that we are directly responsible for compliance with these policies, which are express conditions of participation in any of CMH activities and agree to abide by them. We release any and all of our claims (direct or indirect) to any creative works resulting from our participation in CMH activities, including those from past activities that may be found in the archives of CMH or its affiliates. We also agree to indemnify, defend and hold CMH harmless for any act or omissions by CMH and its volunteers involving us to the extent permitted by law.
